

SOCIAL STRATEGIES } ASKING QUESTIONS

ASKING QUESTIONS FOR CLARIFICATION OR VERIFICATION:

Asking the speaker to repeat, paraphrase, explain, slow down, or give examples; asking if a specific utterance is correct or if a rule fits a particular case; paraphrasing or repeating to get feedback on whether something is correct.

ASKING FOR CORRECTION:

Asking someone for correction in a conversation. This strategy most often occurs in conversation but may also be applied to writing.